

Dried grape investment plan out now

Hort Innovation has released the new dried grape Strategic Investment Plan (SIP).

Developed in consultation with growers and Dried Fruits Australia, the SIP will help guide investment decisions for the dried grape industry over the next five years.

You can view the full SIP on the Hort Innovation dried grape page or take a quick look.

Shaping the future of horticulture

Industry levy payers are invited to join a Hort Innovation Expert Advisory Panel to help shape the future of horticulture.

The panels provide advice and oversight to Hort Innovation on proposed projects and research, and potential methods to address future gaps or opportunities in the existing body of research.

If you have experience in the development or assessment of research projects, visit the Hort Innovation website to find out how you can contribute.

Expressions of interest are being sought for the following panels:

Expressions of interest close 2pm, Friday 12 May.

Calling all young food innovators

Young producers with a minimum five years' experience in the horticulture industry can apply for a scholarship to participate in a 12-month intensive development program.

The Young Food Innovators program is designed for producers or supporting professionals looking to develop new opportunities in domestic or export markets, implement innovative new business models, or accelerate the adoption of new disruptive technologies.

Applications close Friday 28 April. For more information, contact Insights2Innovation Project Manager Stuart Quigley on 0419 773 007 or at insights2innovation@mla.com.au.

This project has been funded by Horticulture Innovation Australia Limited using the Dried Grape Industry research levy and funds from the Australian Government.
