

Dried fruit photo competition open

Dried Fruits Australia has launched its inaugural harvest photo competition.

Photographing our crops and producers is a great way to celebrate and raise awareness of our world-class industry.

For more than a century, Australia's dried grape industry has been renowned for its innovative thinking and practices.

Your challenge is to capture positive aspects of the industry, including people, production, processing, consumption, or heritage.

The winning photographer will receive $350 cash, while $100 will go to the runner up, and $50 to third place.

Entries for the Harvest 2017 Photo Competition must be in by Friday 28 April.

Please share this information with anyone you think might be interested – the competition is open to professional and amateur photographers alike.

We can't wait to see what you come up with! Visit the DFA website for more information.

Nominate a champion hand picker

There has been some discussion in the media recently regarding casual workers engaged on piece rates in the Sunraysia area.

Piecework arrangements are important to the horticulture sector, and to many dried fruit businesses.

If you are still using hand picking on your property, we would love to hear your thoughts on the benefits of piece rates for growers and workers.

DFA is also calling for nominations for the season's best hand picker. If you have a 'gun' picker earning above award wages on piece rates, please get in touch on 5023 5174 or at enquiries@driedfruitsaustralia.org.au.

This project has been funded by Horticulture Innovation Australia Limited using the Dried Grape Industry research levy and funds from the Australian Government.

Disclaimer:

Dried Fruits Australia provides this information in good faith and of a general nature. Growers should make their own decisions regarding individual situations and property conditions.